

You're Invited to the Empire Junior Partnership

RSVP BY NOVEMBER 1, 2022

Dear Reader,

Whitney Tilson here.

We're at a new chapter in the history of Empire Financial Research.

We recently made a change in our business plan that could save you thousands of dollars...

You see, we've decided to create a no-brainer solution to some of the biggest annoyances that come out of the financial newsletter business like...

- Expensive renewal fees, which you'll NEVER have to pay again...
- Getting "left out" of our most cutting-edge ideas. Starting today, I'm giving you access to research from all of our advisory research services. You'll have time to try each of them and decide which you like best.
- You'll never be left wondering how to prioritize the ideas we send you. You'll have clarity on what our favorite ideas are across our entire business.
- You'll receive fewer marketing e-mails from us. Today, I want our relationship to change forever... And with it, the way we promote our products.

Finally...

- Your Empire Financial Research experience will become much more streamlined. With fewer marketing e-mails and more actionable content at your disposal, I aim to minimize the time you have to spend interacting with our business.

For these reasons, I'm hoping this plan becomes the STANDARD way our readers do business with us in the future.

It's simply better in every conceivable way.

And there will be essentially no need to buy anything else from us ever again.

It's the type of arrangement that scares the hell out of my marketing team...

Which is why I know I'm onto something huge.

It's now my personal goal...

To get every serious Empire Financial Research reader to make this change...

And it starts with you.

Even though this will save you thousands of dollars...

We can't do it without your approval.

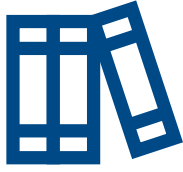

You MUST opt in to reap these benefits.

That's why we've sent you this special VIP invitation...

Because we believe you're the kind of person who knows that investing is a long-term proposition... And you know a good value when you see it.

But we do need to hear from you one way or another by Tuesday November 1st, when this special invitation expires.
